LET'S GET IT WRITE!

"Reading should be a fun adventure and an escape into words-so should writing"-Olivia

Everyone has a story to tell.

...but they don't know your story. The sequence of events and structure of words and scenes will make the difference in the end product.

No one becomes famous overnight. It takes work, dedication, and solid product. It's too soon to worry about publishing options, query letters, and self-publishing platforms. The first thing is to write the story. Come on, let's get it write!

THE WRITER IN RESIDENCE

Olivia Gaines, is an USA Today Best Selling and multiple award-winning author who loves a good laugh coupled with some steam, mixed in with a man and woman finding their way past the words of "I love you." As an author of contemporary romance, she writes heartwarming stories of blossoming relationships about couples.

 5:30 - 6:30 pm

Learn to create genre specific book covers that sell the story to the eye before the reader looks at the blurb.

Participants must have a pre-set Canva.com account to take this class.

Know Your Why

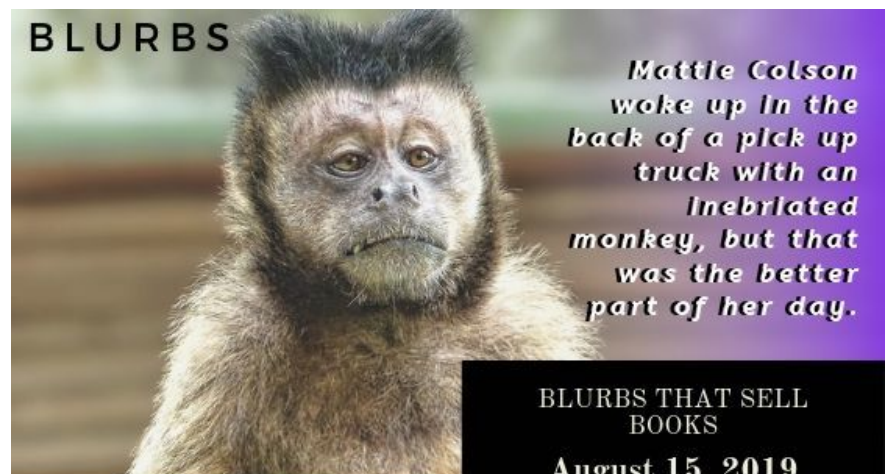

Before starting to write your novel, make a quick list of three reasons why you are penning this story. You will need to come back to this list several times when the tears and aching fingers try to convince you to stop this nonsense. It's not nonsense

GEORGIA HERITAGE ROOM PROGRAMS

Genealogy for Free: An Introduction to FamilySearch.org

Tuesday, August 27th, 2019

Third Floor Computer Lab

Everyone is familiar with Ancestry.com and its millions of genealogy records, but how many people know about FamilySearch.org, the FREE genealogy database with just as many if not more records than Ancestry.com. Georgia Room genealogist Tina Rae Floyd will give a class on this marvelous resource and teach participants how to go about finding family records. Ms. Floyd will also discuss Augusta Public Library's role as a FamilySearch Affiliate Library, and what that means for our library patrons. Space is limited so please call (706) 826-1511 to reserve your spot.

One-on-One Help for Beginners

From July through September 2019, the staff of the Georgia Room are offering one-on-one sessions for library patrons interested in genealogy. If you have just started researching your family history but need a little guidance we will sit down and work with you to develop a plan for moving forward. Sessions will last no more than one hour and are geared towards assisting individuals who are at the beginning stages of their genealogy quest. Each hour-long session is by appointment only, so call (706) 826-1511 to reserve your slot.
